partin the actual ceremony of the coronation assembled, according to prearranged plans, at the cathedral of the Holy Assumption, within the walls of the Kremlin. These functionaries entered the magnificent building at 7:30 a. m. About eight o'clock there followed in order the princes of foreign governments, the nobility of Russia and other states of Europe, and the special and regular ambassadors of foreign countries residing in Russia. The utmost care was exercised to prevent the admission of any unauthorized or improper person, each one, as he appeared at the entrance, being required to exhibit a carefully prepared ticket of admission which was subject to the closest scrutiny. This form was observed both at the gate of the Kremlin and the doors of the cathedral. At the request of General schweinitz, ambassador from Germany, the eighty members comprising the diplomatic corps here assembled at his mansion, and were conveyed thence to the Kremlin in superbly equipped coaches, richly gilded as to their harness and coats of arms. The remainder of the diplomatic body, consisting of the attaches of the various legations, were assigned to p sitions on the tribune just outside the cathedral proper, but inside the enclosure of the Kremlin. When the white walls of that wondrous place inclosed all of the crowd that could be admitted, the choir of boys chatted the Te Dum, and amidst profound slience outside the church as well as in t, the clergy, accompanied by acolytes bearing a cross and an ewer of holy water, proceeded to releve the czarevitch. This scion of royalty, who was in the midst of the brilliant cortege, took a place at the right of the throne.

When the windral procession started it was made riaging of the bells, by sonorous music from the scores of bands and by the shouts of those outside. As the royal pair appeared at the door of the palace the immense mutitude immediately uncovered their heads and burst into loud acclamations; even the women were bounet bare, and the enthusiasm was unaffected as it was spontaneous and hearty. The head of the royal procession, which now entered the kremlin, was the master of ceremonies, flanked by heralds rich y clad and mounted upon pure white horses. The procession was of immense length and comprised deputies from the Asiatic states of the empire, students of the universities, clergy, judges, the nobility and prefects from every section of the empire white uniform of a colonel of the copperor waring the white uniform of a colonel of the copperor squards and by the emprise dressed in the Russian national costume of black velver, richly embroidered with diamonds. Her waist was girdled with a magnificent belt of precious stones. The empress leaned on the arm of her royal consort. The pair placed themselves beneath the canopy richly wrought in sifk and gold, and borne by thirty two generals of high military rank. They took their place near the head of the procession, being directly after the regalla. At this moment the entire body of clergy emerged from the cathedral in order to meet the regalla which they "sprinkled with holy water and perfumed with accuse."

politan of Moscow. The metropolitans of Novgorod and Kieff presented them a cross to be kissed and sprinkted with holy water, first the emperor and then the empress. Before the sacred imases, which flanked the doors of the cathedral, they knelt and bowed their heads, after which they were conducted to the ancient thrones of twory and silver. Alexander occupied the historical throne of the Czar Vladimi Monomague, while the empress was seated in an arm chair glided and encrusted with jewels. The thrones were placed on a dias erected between the two middle columns of the cathedral Over the dais was a canopy of scarlet velvet suspended from the arched room, embroidered with gold and lined with silver broade which was worked with the arms of Russia and all the dependencies in the most ingenious manner. In front of the thrones were two tables covered with gold cloth upon which were placed the crowns, the orb and scepter. None but foreign princes were accommo dated with seats. The Russian princes and dignitaries stood during the entire caremony according to the cistom of the Greek church. The dignitaries of the realm, who were carrying the standard and scales of the empire, took their stands upon the steps of the dais.

After their majestics had been seated the metropolitan of Novgorod asked the emperor in a loud and distinct voice: "Are you a true believer?" The emperor, falling on his knees, read in reply, in a clear voice, the Lord's prayer and the apostles' creed of the Greek church, the Metropolitan responding, "May the grace of the Holy shost remain with thee," descended from the dais. The following customary summons was then three times repeated by the bishop: "If there be any of you here present knowing any impediment for which Alexander, son of Alexander, should not be crowned by the grace of sod emperor and autocrat of all the Russias," etc. (here follows emperor's complete title), "Let him come forward now in the name of the Holy Trinity and show what the impediments are, or let him remain dumb forever." After reading selections from the gospel, the metropolitans of Novgorod and Kieff again ascended the dais and invested the emperor with the imperial mantle of ermine, the metropolitan of Moscow saying at the same time, "Cover and protect thy people as this robe protects and covers thee." The emperor responded, "I will, I will, God helping."

UNDER THE CROWN.

The metropolitan of Novgorod crossing his hands upon the emperor then invoked the benediction upon the emperor then invoked the benediction of Almighty God upon him and his reign, and delivered to Alexander Third the crown of Russia, who placed it upon his own head, and assuming the sceptre and orb took his seat upon the throne. He then returned the insignia of his title to the dignitaries appointed to receive them, and called the empress, who knelt before him. He touched her head lightly with the crown of the emperor, and them formally crowned her with her own crown. The expression and attitude of the empress as she knelt was one of sympathy with her royal husband, and touche i deeply the audience. The czar preserved throughout a grave and decorous dignity and a nobleness of demeanor which also provoked the admiratson of all. After the empress had ocen invested with the imperial mantle, and their m-jesties were both seated again on their thrones, the archdeacon intoned the imperial titles, "bom me saloum fac imperatorem," which was taken up and thrice repeated by the chair. Directly this part of the ceremony was finished the belis in all the churches of Moscow rang out in choius, a salute of 101 guns was fired, and inside the cathedral the members of the imperial family tendered their congratulations to their majesties. The emperor then knelt and recited a prayer, at the end of which the clergy and all present knelt before the emperor. The bishop of Moscow said aloud, in behalf of the nation, a fervent prayer for the happiness of their majesties.

Shouts of "long live the emperor," then rent the cathedral, and were taken up by thousands outside and carried from mouth to mouth until that part of the multitude, who were unable to get inside, even the ample acreage of the kremlin caught the sound and waved it cattle dealer from Fayette, Miss. At one o'dock this morning the emperor and empress, seated on thrones in St. Andrews hall, began to receive congratulations. The reception of the clergy lasted until noon, after which the diplomats, dignitaries, gene, al and provincial d. legates, the latter bringing gifts of native jewelry, were received. The cost of the coronation is estimated at 2,000,000 pounds, which will be covered by an issue of treasury bills. Only threen newspaper correspondents were allowed inside the cathedral during the ceremony. Six were Russian and seven were foreign, the latter including one English and one American correspondent. An academy professor and twelve Russian artists have been appointed to make a complete album of the events of he coronation. The Kremlin square was so censely packed it would have been impossible for any miscreant to have extricated his arms should he have intended to use them against the czar. The czar's crown dates from the period of Emperor Paul I., and is valued as 3,000,000 roubles.

CÉLEBRATED IN ST. PETERSBURG.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 28.—The coronation of the es here yesterday, and by a parade of troops. The city was brilliantly illuminated last night, and the streets were thronged with people. Perfect order provailed.

BERLIN, May 28.-The Russian Standard was hoisted on the embassy yesterday. A solemn te deum was sung in the embassy church at which all the diplomatic representatives and Prussian generais and officials were present. The emperor, who was slightly indisposed, and the crown prince, were represented by their personal adjutants. The general official Gazette says Germany has special reasons for taking a symathetic interest in the coronation of the czar. Family connection and common interest in peace c m fine to make Germany wish for a successful reign of the czar. The Nord Deutch Zeitung prays that the coronation may be a starting point of the new era of happiness and peace.

LONDON, May 28,-The Times correspondent, who was the only English newspaper representative in the cathedral, says the ceremony was grand and imposing. My pen can give only a dim and imperfect impression of the event. The illuminations were magnificent. The city looked like a mass of variegated fires.

As he approached he shouted, "Draw your pistol Amiel," but without waiting an instant he fired, killing Dwrentz on the spot. He then discharged the second barrel at the zirl, seriously, perhaps mortally, wounding her. The murderer then reloaded his gun, and by means of a forked stick fired again, instantly killing himself. Suellenss was nineteen and Dwrentz twenty-two years of age. The body of the murd-red man was brought this morning to South St. Louis, where nis relatives reside. The cause of the shooting is not yet known.

INCIDENTS OF THE CORONATION.

Before their majesties left the palace, the route to the cathedral was sprinkled with holy water. A heavy rain feti just before their majesties started, but just as they took their place under the canopy the sun shone orilitantly. In the cathedral it was nouced that when the czar's voice was grandly resonant. The metropolitan of Novgorod almost broke down in delivering his allocution. The mounted Cossack patrolled every street. The troops lining the route of the procession to the Kremlin remained outside on their knees, close to the walls, during the b st part of the day praying for the czar. A correspondent who has witunesed the greatest pageauts of the last thirty-five years says that the spectacle culminating in the advent of their majesties crowned and robed was the most imposing and splendid he has ever beheld.

Arrival of THE NUNCIO.

The following statement of W. L. Walters cor-innocence of the charge afterward made against him by P. B. Thompson, Jr., saying that if he could have five minutes' talk with Phil that he could explain everything satisfactorily to him, but did not like to approach a subject so delicate without being accused by Thompson: that the family had always treated him friendly and that, he did not believe that the Thompsons believed the report.

Harrodossure, May 21, 1883.—This is to certify that in several interviews with Waiter H. Davis, he always protested his innocence of wrong or wrong intention toward Mrs P. B. Thompson, Jr., on the night of the 25th of November, 1882, and that his visit to the theater from the St. Clair hotel was the result of invitation, and he always avowed that he and Mrs. Thompson were not intoxicated; that they returned to the hotel at a resonable hour, and that Mrs. Thompson's presence in his room was due to the fact that they could not gain admittance to Miss Buckner's. This is he whole story. Is it possible that a gentleman can not with propriety invite a lady to his room on a cold night, when no other fire is convenient and when she was barred admission into Mrs. Buckner's room? I sit necessary to kill a man and heap slander and aspersions on his name when the bullet has forever sealed his lips, and the only living witness is suppressed by the judge who presided at the trial? If this is so, and Kentackians look on with approval, then indeed is justice fled to brutish beasts, and men have lost reason.

Harrodseure, Ky., May 24.—Mrs. Thompson certifies that it is all a fabrication of Jessie Buckner to separate herself and husband and Waiter Davis and wife; that Waiter Davis never told her there was any wreck on the train; that they setch him to call and go to the theater with them; that they were not drunk either of them; that they setch him to call and go to the theater with them; that they were not drunk either of them; that they setch him to call and go to the theater with them; that they were not drunk either of them; that they setc

WASHINGTON, May 28.—senor Godoy, the Chilian minister here, has advices from the government via the Mexican legation at Paris, announcing the ratification of a treaty of peace between Chili and Peru. The country to whom the territory is voted is to pay to the other ten million dollars before acquiring possession. Senor Godoy says that northern and central Peru, which has acknowledged Iglesias, constitute about five-sixths of the whole territory of Peru, and include the capital, Lima, and the principal seaport Callao. He says also that treaty provides for the occupation by Chili of the ceded territory during the ten years covered by the terms of the cession, and that in all probability the Chilian army of occupation now in Lima will remain there until the Peruvian government's fully organized and order entirely restored.

The sheriff's posse was driven back by the women, and the latter are now in possession of the mine. The military are assembled in East St. Louis, and a detachment will probably be sent to Rose Hill to restore order and protect the men who desire to work. After completing their work at Rose Hill, and leaving the guard there, to see that their mandate was carried out, the women marched to Reinick's mine No. 1, three miles from Belleville, on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, and being re-inforced by a large number of strikers, drove out the men working number of strikers, drove out the men working there. WASHINGTON, May 28.-The war department has not received any information from General Crook.
Adjutant General Drum, however, received the following dispatch from Colonel Fletcher this mornng: "Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas, May 26,-General Drum: Nothing authentic has yet been heard here in regard to General Crook. THE DISASTER BISCREDITED.

Further information rela ive to General Crook's movements has been received at the war department to-day. Adjutant-General Drum is disposed to credit the report that Crook has engaged the Apaches and defeated them. He thinks the stories to the effect that his Indian scouts turned upon and massacred General Crook and his command are wholly sen-ational and improbable. "In the first place," said General Drum, "no one understands Indian character better than General Crook, and he would be the last man to put himself in a position where such a tring would be possible. In the second place, the Indian scouts left their wives and children in the custody of the United States authorities, and would not dare to mutiny even if so Inclined, knowing that their families were held as hostages, and again had such a thing happened, I should certainly ere this have received reliable reports in regard to it." The cause of the attack was a card Brown published yesterday regar ing the sewing machine business, which Brown and Turpin conducted together, though the business was dissolved a few weeks since. Brown in his card called Turpin a sewing machine, tramp, "ify by night," and in strong language reflected on Turpin strongly. Turpin is well known here, and has lived in Macon several years. Brown and Turpin were always warm friends, previously living in the same house. The difficulty caus d great excitement.

A FLORIDA PRISONER.

S. A. Long, of Granamville, Fla., arrived in Macon on Saturday night with a requisition from Governor Bloxham on Governor McDaniel, for the arrest of Warren J. Walton, "a white man, a butcher," supposed to have skipped for Macon or Atlanta, from Florida, three months ago. He was found guilty and sentenced to three years in the penitentary for employing negroes to steal cattle for him. Pending an appeal of his case to the superior court, he jumped his bond and was found this morning working on a farm three miles from Macon. He stoutly resisted arrest. Deputy Sheriff Long left with the prisoner to night for Florida.

A RUMORED SUICIDE.

A False Report Concerning Mr. Joe Nail—A Stomach Pump Not Needed. "Yesterday morning Mr. Joe Nail was dressing to ome down town when he was suddenly attacked by something like vertigo and a messenger was sent post haste for a physician. The messenger was Mr. Nall's brother, and not understanding the nature of the trouble and to guard against any possibility of error he suggested that perhaps Mr. Nall had taken poison. Dr. Armstrong and Dr. Loy von Leubrin gen proceeded at once to the residence of Mr. Nail, having provided themselves with a very powerful stomach pump. Arriving at the house they soon saw that Mr. Nail was suffering from nervous exhaustion brought on by mental auxiety and loss of sleep. Since the report of Mr. Nail's shortage in the post-office he has been under a great mental strain and has been unable to either eat or sleep. While dozing at times he has been nervous and restless, and the physicians stated that the attark of yesterday was the result of that cause. An emetic was given to rid his stomach of something that he had eaten that had evidently disagreed with him but the doctors denied most emphatically that he had taken pelson or that they treated him for poison. He was given medicine to quiet his system and was put to bed and kept there, no one being admitted to his presence. At ten o'clock last night he was doing very well.

bed and kept there, no one being admitted to his presence. At ten o'clock last night he was doing very well.

The rumor that he had attempted suicide gained very general circulation yesterday, and was not doubt d. The report went so far at times as to pronounce him dead.

There were no developments in the case yesterday, except that Postmaster Conley announces that Mr. Nail has been removed from his position as assistant postmaster. His successor has not been named. At present the business of the office is being managed by Messrs. Charife Tulier and Robert Raines, two very excellent young men, who were Mr. Nall's assistants. Mr. Nall's promised explanation is looked for to-day. It is not known what it will be. Whatever he has to say should be said speedily if it can benefit him, else his reputation will suffer seriously. It is said that he claims that he is entitled to credits that have not been given him. It is also said that eight-en months ago Mr. Nall was forced to make up a deficit of about two thousand dollars. His friends say they will make up the $8.00 to-day, but it is not known how they will succeed. Mr. Nall will probably, be able to talk to-day in regard to his shortage.

While a conversation was going on in the yard little hose and the five-year old daughter of Mr. Reid climbed into the buggy unnoticed by any one. The horse, from some reason started off and before he could be reached, had gained a pretty fast rate of speed and a distance ahead of those who tried to stop him. However, he did not seem to be frightened, but being unruly at times, the parents of the little girl were very uneasy for fear that he might run and throw her out. But she appeared to be perfectly calm, and crawling from the back seat to that in front, grabbed the lines which were lying on the dashboard and had about stopped the horse as it passed the Baptist church. A negro woman, seeing the little girl's predicament, stepped into the road, and gatheriog the rein, brought him to a stop, where he was found by Mr. Reid as soon as he could make the distance on foot. Sparta Ishmaelite: On Saturday a negro was tried before Judge Little for an assault and battery with intent to murder and was found guilty and sentenced to the chaingang for twelve months. The facts are these: About a month ago a vegro woman, the wife of the prisoner, went into the yard of Mr. George C Hillman and used some very obsene and insulting langauge to Mrs. Hillman, and picked up a brick with which to strike her whereupon Mr. Hillman was called to the scene andtook the brick from the woman and put her out of the yard. The latter then went to a field nearby where her husband was plowing and telling him of the difficulty, he left the field and went into Hillman's yard, where after arming himself with a heavy stick he approached Hillman and desithin a havy blow which he aimed at the head but which was caught on the arm. Hillman then boke and run, but was foll wed to the doorstep by the negro, who would have entered the house had not Mrs. Hillman picked up a hoe standing near by and threatened to brain him if he attempted to do so. Brunswick Appeal: On Saturday last three drunken white men got on the Brunswick and Western train at Wayeross, on which there were a large number of colored people who had been to the har ging the day before. One of these men went into the second-class car, where the colored people were, and took a seat by a colored girl which had but a moment before been vacated by a colored man who, on returning, demanded his seat. A row occurred, in which the three white men engaged, using the negro rather roughly. The conductor appeared on the scene about this time and quieted things, but as soon as the train s opped at Kikkland, where the negroes got off, the white men got off also and renewed the fight. This so enraged the negroes that they opened fire on them; meanwhile the train moved off, the white men taking refuge within, and the infuriated creatures followed for some distance, fring on the train, putting a number of balls into it. One bail passed through a lady's hat, knocking it off and so frightening her that she fainted. After getting out of reach of the builets order was once more restored, and the fainting ones revived, when it was found the guilty ones, whether white or colored, will speedily be brought to justice.

Cedartown Advertiser: The board of directors of the Cedartown cotton factory at a meeting held a few evenings ago settled the question of the site for the proposed building by accepting the previously mentioned proposal of Major A. R. Jones to furnish a site from a body of land lying west of town in the way of stock. The site will embrace twenty acres. A committee has been appointed to ascertain the cost and arrange for the making of a sufficient amount of brick for the building. An amount necessary to defray the expense of making the brick weare told, will be advanced by individuals interested in seeing the project carried through.

Americus Recorder: It has been suggested that a reunion of the fifth Georgia regiment of volunteers take place in this city next October. This regiment has never had a reunion, and we know the hospitalities of the people of this city will be tendered them. The following named companies formed the regiment: Clinch Rifles of Augusta, Griffin Light Guards, Dawnson Volunteers, Schley Guards, Irish Volunteers of Augusta. Hardee Rifles of Bainbridge, and the McDuffie Rifles of Warrenton.

Primus Oliver, a middle aged colored man, who resided on the plantation of Mr. R. T. Smith, ten miles below Vienna, was shot and instantly killed Friday morning by Joseph Williams, a white man. The negro and Williams are said to have had a misunderstanding previously, which seems to have ag-grieved the latter so much that he and his brother Isaiah armed themselves with shotguns Friday norning, and riding to the field in which Oliver was at work, called to him to come to them, and when the negro refused to comply, Joseph Williams raised his gun, took deliberate aim and fred, the contents penetrating Oliver's breast, killing him instantly. Coroner Gilbert went down, held an inquest, and a verdict was returned in accordance

gives us a definition, which may not be inappropriate here. "Spring," says he "is the season of the year when plants begin to vege-tate and rise; the vernal season, comprehending the months of March, April and May, in the middle of latitudes north of the equator,"

Thomson, in his "Seasons," and Shakspeare in many of his works, have, perhaps, no peers in describing it, and yet "etherial spring" is freighted with malaria, "that insidious foe, lurking unseen in the very air we breathe."

It spreads over the fairest portions of our land; brings death and disease to thousands:

cuts off scores upon scores of our children and youth, as well as those in advanced life. A pestilence is regarded with less apprehension and people everywhere are asking, "what is

KIDNEY-WORT AS A SPRING MEDICINE

When you begin to lose appetite:—have a headache, a pain in your side, back, and shoulders;—to toss about at night in restless dreams;—wake in the morning with a foul mouth and furred tongue;—feel disinclined to go about your work, heavy in body and op-pressed in mind;—have a fit of the blues;—

when your urine gets scanty or high colored,— to suffer with constipation, diarrhos or in digestion:—have a pasty, sallow face, dull eyes, and a blotched skin;—one or all or these common complaints will certainly be evidences that your liver is disordered, torpid, or perhaps diseased. A bottle of Kidney-Wort is, under such circumstances, a priceless boom to such a person.

to such a person.

Bure assertions of proprietors have come to possess less force than they frequently merit. The cause of this condition of popular skepticism is, in the main, to be found in the fact that charlatanism covers our broad land Meritorious articles are too frequently found in had company.

Meritorious articles are too frequently found in bad company.

The proprietors of Kidney-Wort always prove all their assertions, touching the merits of their preparations. When we affirm, therefore, that Kidney-Wort is a specific for just such disorders as have been mentioned in this article, the proof, too, belongs to and shall follow this statement.

A PHYSICIAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Dr. R. K Clark, a regular physician of extensive practice in Grand Isle county, and a worthy deacon of the Congregational church, at South Hero, Vt., bas used Kidney-Wort for several years in his practice, and before the present proprietors purchased an interest in it, he had given his unbiased opinion in its favor This opinion has not changed. It has done better than any other remedy I have ever used," says the doctor, and, further on he writes:

on he writes:

"I do not recollect an instance where the patient to whom I had given it has failed to receive benefit from its use, and in some severe cases most decidedly so." These are strong words. They are from a representative, conscientious, ever-approachable public citizen, however, and—better still—they are true.

true.

Kidney-Wort will bear all the enconiums lavished upon it by its friends—and their name is legion. "I will swear by Kidney-Wort all the time, writes Mr. J. R. Kauffman, of Lancaster, Pa. We will supplement this by asserting, as a matter of fact, and one capable of demonstration, that all honest patrons of this remedy are its friends and advocates.

LETTER FROM AN EMINENT CHEMIST.

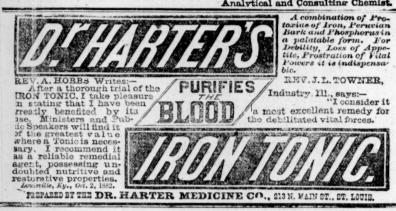

THE TRUE WORTH

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

Chicago, Ills., March 9th, 1883.

This is to state that I have used DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER IN MY FAMILY in preference to any other, for more than TEN YEARS, and that I have in that time ANALIZED numerous samples of the same, purchased by myself for my own use, from different places in open market, and in original package, and that I have in every case found it STRICTLY PURE and RELIABLE Cream of Tartar Baking Powder, COM-TOUS OR OBJECTIONABLE. In every case I have found this article to be so composed, as to yield the LARGEST PERCENTAGE of CARBONIC ACID. and therefore of EFFECTIVE FORCE consistent with the composition of a Having compared this with other well known rival Baking Powders, I find Tartar BAHING POWDER, instead of being compounded in part of Ammonia,

"has been more destructive to human life than war, pes lience and famine combined." So said a distinguished writer many years ago, and it is as true to-day as then. The poor victim of blood poison is dosed with mereury to cure the disease, and then with iodides togeure the mercury; but i stead of any relief the one breaks down his health and renders the unfortunate person a cripple, and the other destroys the little vitality remaining by disorganizing his digestive apparatus.

To all sufferers of this class, and to all who are troubled with blood or skin diseases, or with any malady traceable to them, Swift's Specific (S. S. THE madstone controversy threatens to be come an issue in Georgia disputation. Re cently a gentleman had occasion to visit. a neighboring state for the purpose of drawing relief from a famous stone. This drew out the information from the men who carry buckeyes and similar specifies that Georgia had stones of her own of which she was more than proud. A friend of THE CONSTITUTION in the classic retreat of Hickory Flat now suggests that those stones should be kept at the capital for the benefit of the afflicted. The suggestion, if pushed, would add to the power of the Atlanta ring.

COTTON SEED OIL.

Those who believe in the virtues of cotton seed oil are still firm in the faith. The experiments which were recently made in At lanta and elsewhere in the direction of sub stituting this pure vegetable oil for diseased hog's fat from the west were not conspicuously successful, but they were not all failures Those who tested the oil know that it can be refined to the proper degree to serve as a sub stitute, and when this refia'ng procees is perfected, hog's fat will be employed only where it was intended it should be employed, in soap factories. What seems to be a failure sometimes turns out to be a success, and the unanimity with which the people turned from hog's fat to test cotton seed oil shows that it is only necessary to prepare the latter as it should be prepared.

There are many families who prefer the cotton seed oil to hog's fat, and it is said to be growing greatly in favor in the north, where it has been thoroughly tested. It is to be feared that in the south, under the haphazard system of cooking that has prevailed since the war, that hog's fat and salsoda are too firmly fixed in the affections of the man of the warehouse and delivery commitesteemed colored Amazons who swing our frying pans, for cotton seed oil to make its way, but it will finally come into use. Reforms do not take place in a day. People cannot be convinced now that the germs of all sorts of diseases are bred in pork and hog's fat, but before many years cotton seed oil will be in use in every kitchen.

THE EASTERN COTTON MILLS. The owners of spindles in the east and their trade agents appealed from the adverse decision of the east and-west pool, represent ed by Mr. Fink, to the railroad commission of the state of New York. The appeal was taken in the name of "domestic drygoods," but one of the speakers at the meeting of the commission, held last week, admitted that the real grievance relates to the coarser and him the samples with their certificate as to cheaper grades of cotton gools-the grades, other words, that are manufactured in the south, dry goods are charged in the classi first-class rates. The pool divides all goods into four classes, the rate from New York to Chicago being 75 cents per hundred weight on goods of the first class, and only 35 cents on goods of the fourth class. The representatives of the cotton mills did not hesitate to ask the commissioners to increase the rates on other classes of freight in order that the rate on coarse dry goods at least might be decreased. The Chicago jobbers came to the re lief of their New York brethren in a letter addressed to the commission, in which they

Mills are springing up every day in the west and south, and are aiready becoming serious competitors of the eastern mills. Sheetings made at the west are celivered over-western railroads to distributing points at reduced rates, classified as "pag-That the east is feeling this competition is shown

That the east is feeling this competition is shown by the well known fact that so many eastern manufacturers' agents are pening branch offices and sending resident representatives to the west. Is it not unjust that a bale of sheetings worth fifty dodars should pay the same frieght as a case of silk worth twenty-five hundred dodars?

The cost to the shipper of a car load of domestic dry goods is more than twice as much as that of a car load of sugaror coffee, while the risk incurred by the reil-rad in respect to damace is far less on the dry go.ds than on the coffee or sugar.

This can so of goods—succetings, etc.—is the best packed and the easiest and cleanest to handle of any f. eight you ship, and will load a car to its full-est capacity.

Unless some charge is made we believe that, un e influence of western and southern competi he trunk lines will inevitably carry a contin decreasing quantity of this freight every

This is about the substance of the demands of the eastern cotton men; and Mr. Fink in reply startled the audience with the frank declaration that the railroads had abandoned the cost of the service, and had substituted a circumstances beyond the control bear. He claimed that this was the rule all have not exceeding five days of the following the world over, and that "a more theoretical policy" would result in the bankruptcy of all railroads in the country. He fur- false-packed cotton (if the same has been in-ther said that the complaints made to the commission on this subject did not, come from consumers, who finally pay all costs, and he therefore thought the merchants and manufacturers should be able to increase their prices so as to cover all transportation charges. This is certainly a very refreshing and frank presentation of the transportation question from the standpoint of the railroad companies. "We endeavor," said the head of the trunk lines, "to get as much out of a commodity as we can without losing the trade.

Mr. Fink then proceeded to explain why the classification was necessarily empiricalwhy sugar had to be carried at a low rate to San Francisco to meet a rivalry that grew out of the treaty with the Sand wich islands-why one rate is higher and another lower; and he clinched his argument with an expression of belief that a classifica tion by merchants would be just as incongruous as any that the trunk railroads had adopted, and even more so. Each dealer, he said, would ask for a different rate on each

The commission listened to all that was said and then the subject was put over until the 13th of next month, when the disheartened cotton men of the east may again endeavor to ecure privleges in transportation in the hope hat they will thus be able to hold their own against the mills of the south and west. They do not stop to consider that it is a game that southern railroads can also play at, especially when nineteen northward bound cars in the south out of twenty are "empties." There is one solution of this eastern difficulty-move your mills to the cotton belt. Any other remedy will prove temporary and valueless. The south intends to make the coarse cotton goods used in the country, and after a while the fine goods also.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO-DAY

The meeting of the chamber of commerce announced for this morning, will be the most important ever held by that body, for to-day's meeting will settle whether or not ts organization shall be active and perma-

The total membership now goes beyond on hundred and ten, and embraces the best merchants in the city. Almost every trading nouse is represented, and the trade and capi tal of Atlanta will be gathered together when the meeting is called to order this morning The main interest of the public centers on the proposed building in which the board of trade will make its bome. We believe the nterest of the board centers there also. Once give the organization a home of its own-a building of which its members may be proud and in which all the commercial interests of the city may be provided for-and there will be no danger of diminution in the interest of he merchants in their board. It is absurd to say that the merchants o tlanta, in council assembled, cannot proride the money or the plan to erect such a uilding as is worthy of the capital city, and will worthily illustrate her commercial intersts. If the right men take hold of it in the right way, as we have no doubt will be done, the matter will go through with a whirl. Let every member of the board be on hand this m rning at 10 o'clock, and the meeting will be a notable and a worthy one.

THE CLASS FICATION OF COTTON The committee recently appointed by the New York cotton exchange to consider the question of inspection and classification of tton has made two reports, one signed by the majority and the other signed by the minority. The majority report declares that ome plan should be adopted whereby cotton once delivered and classed upon contract shall be deliverable upon the same classification. The report says that there should be an inspector of cotton who shall be the chaircommittee composed of three members of the exchange, experts in cotton, to be ap pointed by the board of managers.

The report describes the duties of inspector of cotton. When called upon he is to have carefully inspected, sampled in duplicate. classed and class-marked, have carefully weighed according to class-mark, and have delivered to the classification committee the original samples of each grade in a separate paper, with the mark corresponding to tha put upon the bales, accompanied by the shipper's mark, if desired by owner, receiver or shipper. He is to send duplicate samples and weighmaster's returns to the owner. He is to keep a record of all his inspections, and when the classification committee have returned to grade, he is to make a record of same and instruct the warehousemen to issue his receipt for the cotton in accordance with the marks, class and weights. In case the warehouseman has already issued his receipts according to marks alone, he is to add thereto the class and weights, if desired by the owner, when instructed to do so by the inspector. Such warehouse receipt, properly indorsed, shall be a good delivery for any part of a contract as to grade; and if the parties to a contract have agreed as to allowance for loss in weight, the bill shall be paid in full on presentation of warehouse receipt on the fifth day after notice of delivery But if they have not agreed as to allowance for loss in weight, then an approximate amount is to be paid on such delivery of warehouse receipt, and cotton is to be weighed as soon thereafter as practicable, or may be weighed the day before delivery of documents. A contract is not to be deliverable from more than two warehouses.

The decision of the classification committee as to grade is to be final. Suitable brands are to be provided for the different contract grades, and all inspected cotton is to be branded with the grade as soon as decided upon by the classification committee. The first delivery of any cotton on contract shall be made through the inspector and classification committee, but any subsequent delivery of same cotton shall be made by warehouse receipt. When cotton has not been previously classed, and notice for delivery has not been made before the 25th of the month, or no notice given, and the amount to be delivered is greater than can be received before the end the plan of making their rates according to of the month, owing to the weather, or any tariff on articles based on what they would the inspector or receiver, then the latter shall > month to receive the balance of his contracts The cotton exchange is to be responsible for spected by the inspector) to the last receiver and shipper, if discovered on taking it out of warehouse, but all liability shall cease after it has been shipped away.

The minority report, which is signed by one nember of the committee only, differs from the majority report mainly on the question whether there should be two forms of deliv ery or only one. The former report holds tha the seller should, in all cases, have cotton prepared and classed and transfer to buyer by warehouse certificate.

ONE of two things is badly needed on the White ing over the Central should be fixed so the cars wil stay on the track or pasengers should be transferred The miserable arrangement of the sidelings is bac enough, but when the street cars run off at the Central crossing, the delay is intolerable.

He is quoted as saying that Ward is one of the purest men before the public. "He is a man of ability and integrity. He is one around whom every democrat and all the disaffect ed republicans in Ohio can and will raily. The very fact of Judge Thurmon coming out for him adds very much to his chances. I would not say a word in disparagement of either the other candidates, because they are both good men and friends of mine (I refer to Judge Hoadley and Judge Geddes); but I fear Hoadley would not be strong with the foreign voters, and Judge Geddes, vou know, is charged with being a crusader. It is not true, however. Therefore, taking all things into consideration. LORD LANSDOWNE'S acceptance of the vice royalty of Canada is probably due to the almost utter failure of his Irish rents and the decreased value of his by no means large English property. His grandfather, famous for his graceful hospitalities, lived above his income and left no money Lord Lansdowne has been obliged to let his London house. His great uncle, the second marquis, ran through the whole of his I ish estates, the ancient patrimony of the earls of Kerry, and what Lord Lansdowne now owns, both in England and Ireliand, came from the famous Sir William Petry, whose daughter married an earl of Kerry. Lord Lansdowne is a young man of irreproachable reputation. Succeeding early in life to his title and estates, he has lived the life of a model nobleman. For a while he fill daplace in the government, but resigned it on account of his differing with nis colleagues on an important point of Irish policy. He married one of he daaghters of the duke of Abercorn, a young lady eminently fitted to fulfill the duties which will devolve on her at Ottawa. The fact of Lord Lansdowne being grandson of a distinguished Frenchman—Count Flahault—should specially commend him to French Canadians. utter failure of his Irish rents and the decrease

NEW YORK Sun: George I. Seney has pur chased, for $135,000, the house of the late J. S Rockwell, in Montague terrace and Montague Brooklyn. The house, which was built by Mr. Rockwell at an expense of $200,000, with by Mr. Rockwell at an expense of $200,000, with special reference to its sanitary plumbing, proved to be practically the vent for the Furman street sewer, and the consequence was that he died from diphtheria which afflicted other members of the household, and carried off a grandchild The defects, however, have been fully remedied. When his friend Viardot, husband of the famous vocalist, "Garcia," died, it was at first resolved to keep the matter secret from him. But his physician determined on a bold stroke. He walked up to him, and without any preparation, said: "My dear Turgeneiff, your friend Viardot"—here the patient anxiously looked up, and the doctor finished the sentence "your friend Viardot is dead." The patient sank down in his chair, juarticulate sounds came from his lips and tears filled his eyes. He had recovered his memory, and this fact encouraged the hope that he may yet recover.

ARMSTRONG REPLIES TO LOCHRANE. Augusta, Ga., May 26, 1883.—Editors Constitution: In replying to Judge Lochrane's letter in today's Constitution, I will endeavor to be as concise as the rambling and misleading character of the statements to be refuted will permit. He does not know how to be fair. He speaks of his views "published somewhere." My note referred distinctly to the interview published in THE CONSTITUTION. I withdrew the personal part in so far as it was supposed to be an argument, but it is all true, and he cannot deny it. With the "pope" and the "vatican" this discussion has nothing to do, but trying to shield himself from abuse trying to shield himself from abuse behind the mantle of O'Connell he insults the intelligence of the readers of THE CONSTITUTION. By whom was O'Connell abused? By England and the small ascendency garrison in Ireland. By whom has Lochrane been "abused?" By one who, whatever his faults may be, is neither sycophant, place-hunter nor croaker, but who, being one of the people, stands with them, whether in Ireland or America, against traducers and changelines. Nowithstanding the hidges's repaired at the largest and changes.

The judge is willfully unfair in bringing the Irish widow in Augusta and Dublin into the case. It is not a question of house property in cities. It is a question of iand in a country where the policy of the government has crushed out all other industries, and, therefore, the peop e must live upon the land or starve. Mr. Gladstone, who understood his, calls a writ of eviction a sentence of death

In 1843, in an ejectment case, Chief Justice Pennefather said: "Tae legislation on this subject, is a progressive code, giving in each successive act additional remedies to the landlord." This system made poverty, cessive act additional resources and poverty, social degradation and possibe starvation in bad years the lot of the Irish peasant, and to break it up by the estaolishment of a peasant 'proprietary was the principal object of the land teague. While the struggle for this object continued it proposed to assist and encourage the tenauts to resist the payments, not of rents, but of rackrents. This plan had the judge's sympathy until somebody abused Gadstone (the judge is tender about abuse) and stripped raracti of his influence; then the Irish must suffer no matter who did the abusing, and the stripping. The government imprisoned Parnell, hoping to strip him of his influence, but did not succeed; the national testimonial which his fellow-countrymen intend hoping to strip him of his influence, but did not succeed; the national testimoniat which his fellow-countrymen intend to present him with, and which has already reached over $50,000 in Ireland alone, will show that his popularity and influence were never so great as at present. With all the "conspiracies," etc., there nave been fewer murders in Ireland in any given year in proportion to population than in the Uni-ted States, and outside the crimes provoked by landlord and roller tyrenux—nav even inventer. andford and police tyranny—nay, even including them—it is freer from crime than England. Wh them—it is freer from crime than England. When the government resorted to repressive instead of remedial measures, it was warned that such action would lead to an increase of crime. Did it need the warning? No. In order to save the landlord garrison the people are crushed reientles-ly; in the language of one of the ministers, "disaffection must be driven under the surface." In depriving the people of the right to meet together-publicly to discuss their grievances and suggest remedies for a scapegoat and throws the blame on tional movement, but it will not do; me on the Irish ple will place the responsibility where it properly be-longs on the British government, which n.s no-toriously failed in i.s effort to govern the Irish people and yet refuses to let them govern them-selves.

Lochrane says—and here he assumes the role of a Lochrane says—and here he assumes the role of a political prophet—that we are not capable of self-government, and in this, as in most of his opinions the British government coincides. Where is his proof? Does he draw it from the conduct of the 1,200 delegates—from every parish in Ireland—that met in convention in Dublin in september, 1881, and whose orderly and dignified manner, as well as their determination, so alarmed last their determination, so alarmed simost immediately after their adjournment? Or does he draw it from the bearing of the men from every section of the country who assembled again in Dublin last October and established the Irish national league? Or from the action of the 1,290 delegates, from all parts of the United States and Canada, that met recently in Philadelphia, and, notwith-standing that the widest differences of opinion existed, united upon a plan of action to assist their countrymen in Ireland. If we are unfit for self government, a trial will soon demonstrate the fact; and since the government professes to be willing to do almost anything to satisfy as, this would seem to be the simplest way of settling the matter. We are a constant worry to England; she looks after us out of pure good nature. We are willing to relieve her of the trouble. Why not let us?

If the judge be the honest and sincere Irishman and zeatous O'Connellite he sayshe is, he could have shown it far better by belonging to the land league instead of defaming them. The national movement; and, although professing advantages which the judge has not, the British government with all its malignant methods, including an inquitious star chamber inquisition, has not been able to connect either of them with murder or ourrage. The repeal meetings were suppressed by force like the land league; and the only difference in the treatment of the leaders was that O'Connell and his friends were put in prison and kept there under a coercion act and without even the presents strength, soundness, stability: is Judge Lochrane noted for t Lochrane says—and here he made a pable of a political prophet—that we are not capable of a government, and in this, as in most of his opin government, and in this, as in most of his opin a coincides. Where is centuries, and by brute force alone is the British government represented in Ireland to-day Take away the army—the emblem o force—and the sway of foreign government would not hold twenty-four hours. England has no right to rule Ireland by force; she cannot rule her otherwise. What is the remedy for this state of affairs? It consists in allowing Ireland to govern herself. This talk that England cannot afford to let treland have a separate government because the island- are so close together is all bosh. There is nothing in it. France and England are situated equally close together, and they have to get along and do get along very well, without one of them rulling the other.

The United States and Canada, though still closer together, live and thrive under separate govern

The United States and Canada, though still closer together, live and thrive under separate govern ments. Why not England and Ireland?

Those who believe in the principles of the declaration of independence cannot dispute the right of Ireland to declare herself free and independent whenever the opportunity offers, nor her right to create that opportunity by all legitimate means. The fact that there is a contemptible min ority-composed of landlords and their tools, place-hunters, political sycophants, in a word the English garrison in Ireland—optosed to her freedom does not weaken the cause of the Irish people. Did not America have her "tories"—greater in number proportionately that the "garrison" in Ireland—to contend with in the revolutionary war, and yet who claims that her right to independence was affected thereby. If the Irish question was thoroughly understood in the United States, believe the great mass of the people would sympatics with Ireland. thoroughly understood in the United States, I believe the great mass of the people would sympathize with Ireland. The Irish national league of America was formed for the purpose of assisting the people of Ireland in winning self-government—the sure remedy for all her troubles—and it proposes to apply fiself to the task regardless allke of the denunciations and sneers of British sympathizers and the anathy of some who ought to be know that is born of self-government, and hence their desire to have its blessings excended to Ireland. The love of the American citizen of Irish lessen his love for his adopted country, any more than the love of the true man for the mother who than the love of the true man for the your own on every battle field American liberty. John JOHN F. ARMSTRONG

A CARD FROM MR. JULIUS BROWN. We print the following card from Mr. Julius Brown with pleasure:

It is fair to Major Crane to say that he did not in tend his remarks for publication. He was simply talking to a party of gentlemen on the street and gave certain information he had received from a gentleman who he thought was in position to know, concerning the income of Governor Brown, adding his own opinion as to its general correctness. A epresentative of THE CONSTITUTION, believing that he information given would be of public interest and violate no private rights, printed it. Mr. Brown is right, in general terms, as to the in justice of the press invading the private affairs of citizens. But his father's high position in the political and financial world would seem to render him an exception. To have gos ip concerning his affairs printed-and the article complained of pretended to be no more t an gos ip, is one of the penalties of wealth and greatness. Just as the papers of the country print all sorts of stories oncerning the income or wealth of Gould and Van derbilt, when they would not think of discussing the private affairs of an ordinary merchan, see Senator Brown must expect to see more or less concerning himself and his affairs printed in the public perning nimeriand his anarts printed in the puone press, while the affairs of men not conspicuously nich or prominent are not brought before the public. Mr Brown's card contains many interesting points quite as interesting as the gossip we printed. EDITORS CONSTITUTION: One thousand dollars a flay is a very large income, isn't it? I am very glad to see from your aper yes:erday that Major Bencrane has figured it up that my father has such an accome. Now, if the major will be kind enough to Crane has figured it up that my father has such an income. Now, if the major will be kind enough to show me where the money is, so that I, as my father's confidential agent and the only person on earth who has power to sign his name for him, can get the money so that I can put it in bank or invest it for him, I will be under great obligations to the major My father confides with me fully about all of his affairs, and I know where every dollar of his property is and what income it yi lds. I was not aware until I saw it in your paper that Major Ben Crane knew enough of my father's affairs to state his iacome. Nor did I know until yesterday that it was near so much. It was news to me, as it will be to my father when he reads it. The major is a clever enough gentleman and sounds pretty high in mercantile circles here, but he is not in my father's confidence as to his private business affais, and I did not know until I read your article that he was making them a study. The correctness of a conclusion always depends upon the truth of the premises. He has his days wrong, in the mises. He has his data wrong, in the first place my father's salary is not as he has stated. It is a little larger, the Dade Coal company paying him a small salary as its president. In the next, his rents are not so much and do not not him six per cent, much less eight upon the city assessment values. In the next place he has not as much real estate as the major says. Again, he does not own the Rising Fawn Iron Works, did not build a railroad in Bartow county fifteen miles long and deep and oad in Bartow county, fifteen miles l ong, and doe road in Bartow county, fifteen miles long, and does not own the Dade Coal mines. The furnace and the Bartow County railroad, eight miles long, belong to the Dade Coal company, and the Dade Coal company's stock belong; to Joseph E. Brown, Jacob W. Leaver, W. C. Morrill and Julius L. Brown, and the Jurnace does not make five hundred dollars per day profit. I wish it did. Neither does that furnace make a profit of ten dollars per ton on list iron. Lals, wish that was true. Weiger Ray dollars per day profit. I wish it did. Neither does that furnace make a profit of ten dollars per ton on its iron. I also wish that was true. Major Ben Crane has money and credit, and from his statement it is evident he can beat us selling iroa. As the vice president and acting president of the Walkeer iron and coal company, which owns the Rising Fawn furnace, I will enter into a contract with Major Crane to sell him the entire product of the Rising Fawn furnace for the next tweive months, except the small part of it necessary to fill present contracts, for a net profit of one-helf what he says we make, or five dollars per ton; or, if he will take our contracts and fill them, so that we will not be liable up.n them, then I will or, if he will take our contracts and fill them, so that we will not be liable upon them, then I will sell him the entire product of the furnace at that profit. As the major states the profit to be ten dollars per ton, which is more than we have ever been able to make by any sales we have ever made even when iron was very active, high and in great demand, here is a chauce for him to sdd to his gains. But Mr. Editor, why pursue the ridiculously made even when iron was very active, high and in great demand, here is a chauce for him to add to his gains.

But Mr. Editor, why pursue the ridiculously abourd statement any further. In one plain expressive English word, tae statement is untrue. The clever major has been imposed upon, or has been seeing how full he could stuff the writer of the article with such nonsense about a gentleman's private affairs which do not belong to the public. I ask that you will priot this and correct the statement before it becomes current, and I will tell you why I wish it done:

Being found in a paper of the standing of The Constitution.

Being found in a paper of the standing of The constitution in his absence it will be my duty to read them, as I do all his letters, and were it not for his directious not to do so, it would be my very great pleasure to put them in the waste basket, but as he wishes it, I would have to file them with the two hundred begging letters which have come to him in his short absence of six weeks from the state, until his return.

By the way, Mr. Editor, if you could see these begging letters I now have for him, most of them from entire strangers, living in different states of the union, and people who have no sort of claims upon him, begging money for themselves, aid for relatives and friends, begging for churches, parsonages, senools and colleges, begging for loans and for the purchase of lands, letters reading him lectures and telling him what he ought to do with his money, and letters attempting to play upon his vanity by suggesting how great a thing it would be to endow a college (so that the writer could get a salary as professor), you would not only feel a deep disgust for poor human nature, but you would also do nothing to induce the writing of any more such letters. The general idea of the writers of the selections and colleges beging to be that, as my shather gave $50,000 to the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, and $50,000 to the State University, that there is no end to his means. President Plant's Plans.

From the Jacksonville Times-Union. Mr. H. S. Haines, general manager of the Savannah, Florida and Western rallway, is the busiest and most effective business man in the south. He ives in his private car pretty much of the time nowadays, traveling from point to point, directing wi h the hand of a master the great interests under his control.

For two days past he has been in Jacksonville. He has finished his work of connecting his road in the west with the Pensacola and Atlantic, has a force busy upon the New Bradford extension to dainesville, and now having purchased control of the South Florida railroad is preparing to move his army of construction down there. The ruck reights are now growing bigger every day and that with other deeply important matter, has broughtim fown with his principal field marinals, Mr. C. D. Owens, general agent in New York, Mr. George W. Haines, assistant general manager, and Mr. James L. Taylor, general freight and posseager agent. They left for Pensacola last evening, but will return again shortly and go to Sanford.

You are aware that our president, it. Plant, is one of the largest owners in railway properties in the south. In connection with two or three other business associates residing in Baltimore and New York he owns a controlling interest in the entire system known as the Atlantic Coast Line, beginning at Richmond and terminating at Chacleston. The Plant Investment company proper embraces the Charleston and Savannah railway, the savannah, Florida and Western railway and its several extensions under charces from the state of Florida and Georgia and the steamboat properties plying the Chatcahoochee, Flint, Apalacticoa and Suwannee rivers. Our president, Mr. Plant, recognizing the necessity of securing a southern outlet, on the Gull of Mexico, and believing that the development of that portion of the state would materially benefit our existing system, concluded sutsfactory arrangements with President Ingraham for the control of the South Florida road.

"The contracts," said Mr. Owens, speaking with great precision, "for the entire rail, to be of seel, have already been placed. The consolidation of the South Florida with our system brings with it an engagement on our part to complete the road to Tampa, if possible by January 1st, 1884.

"If you will look on the map you can form an idea of the magnitude of the undertaking. The greatest difficulty to be encountered is the transportation of men and material. We do not build by contract, but have our own little armies of men with the munitions of railroad war. We have just got done building our branch to the Pensacola and Atlantic road in west "lorida, and now we shall move them to south Florida. The purpose is to build from both ends, Kissimmee and Tampa, simultaneously. Thousands of tons of steel rais and lasteniegs, hundreds of cars and an army of laborers with their supplies have to be moved to a country ill provided with the necessary facilities to transport them

"Mr. Haines is busily engaged in organizing his field and staff to most the difficulties, and if nothing unforseen occurs it is safe to predict that the programme which I have indicated to you will be carried out prompty and fully.

"The enterprise, however, does not stop at Tampa, and our president, Mr. Plant, is now considering the advisibility of building a line of steamships to run between that port and K. y. West and flavana, built especially with a view to safety, speed and the utmost comfort and luxury to passengers. The time between Tampa and Havana will not exceed twenty-eight hours and between Jacksonexceed twenty-eight hours and between Jackson-ville and Havans fifty four hours. "How many miles of road have you to build to reach Tampa."

"There are eighty odd miles of road to be built and the entire south Florida road, when completed from Sanford to Tampa, will be 125 miles long."

"The extension and completion of our railway system in Carolina, Georgia and Florida, and the increase of business attendant, has rendered it necessary to open larger and more commodious of fices in New York. We have taken a lease of 271 Broadway, and will move there June 1st. This will be the practical Florida headquarters in New York for all information relative to Florida, its several soutes of travel, costs of passage and freight, advice to sattlers, and all other information which may be required. Newspapers from the several states will be kept on file there, and visitors to the city are cordially invited to call and consult them."

"What about your western connections."

"They are very important. The recent extension of the Savannah, Florida and Western railway to the Pensacola and Atlantic road make our line the shortest route from the east in freighting miles to all points in west Florida, Mobile and New Orleans. By this route the distance from Jackson-ville to San Francisco," said Mr. Owens, consulting his note book for accuracy, "is 3,140 miles, and from New York to San Francisco the distance is 3.23! miles, being a difference in favor of Jackson-ville of 140 miles, with an increasing saving in distance in favor of this route to all points in New and old Mexico, southern California, Chihanna and neighboring points. Tourists may now elect to purchase tickets in the east that will embrace all of this section and justify us in assuming the title of the "Only Route to all Winter Resorts."

organizations have always lacked, and lacking which they have always gene to pieces through in difference

The list for membership was headed as follows:

"We, the undersigned, hereby agree to join the Commercial club of Atlanta—the said club to be made up of the merchants, manufacturers and professional men of the city—and while entirely distinct from and independent of, to be promotive of, and subsidiary to the aims and purposes of the Atlanta chamber of commerce. The initiation fee shall be $50, and no signature is binding until 100 have been obtained."

This was offerted for signatures and over fifty names were signed immediately or during the afterneon. The following is nearly a complete list:

T. L. Langston, W. H. Mickelberry, W. A. Icemphill, S. M. Inman, T. D. Neador H. W. Grady, Phillip Dodd, Charles Beermann, Walter Johnson, B. E. L. Tane, L. J. Hill, W. C. Sanders, C. E. Caverly, P. H. Snook, E. F. May, J. v. Oglesby, Stewart F. Woodson, W. O. Joues, Charles Heath, H. A. Failler, Julius L. Brown, F. M. Fotts, E. S. McCandless, R. J. Lowry, D. M. Baiu, E. Haiman, Paul Jones, E. Lowe, J. W. Murphy, A. L. Greene, J. A. Anderson, B. G. Lockett, J. W. Rankin.

There are, perhaps, a half dozen other names not reported last night. The granest interest was manifested in the club, and the membership will rapidly go beyond one hundred, when an organization will be effected and rules for the government of the club adopted. We shall print additions to the list as they are made. A committee with Major B. E. Craue as chairman was appointed to prepare by laws.

TRUCK AND TRUCKERS.

TRUCK AND TRUCKERS.

Shipments and Movements of Truck. Specials to the constitution.

New York, May 26.—Sayannah steamer arrived yesterday evening 3 o'clock, being in good time for to day's market, and all produce sold rapidly at good prices; potatoes hold up well, choice rose selling six dollars; medium, four to five; most peaches inferior. It will not pay to ship poor stock, only fahey are wanted, such are selling at two to three dollars, third crates. A few Florida melons sold at fifty cents; also, first Georgia raspberries brought fifty cents a quart.

three dollars, third crates. A rew Florida mellons sold at fifty cents; also, first Georgia raspberries brought fifty cents a quart.

Boston, May 28.—Twenty-three hundred packages by savannah steamer arrived to-day. Choice pototatoes alve dollars, culls two dollars. Most pototatoes arrive here poorly sorted, two to four dollars: "Georgia cukes four dollars per crate; beans two to two and a quarter; summer squash one dollar structure barrels potatoes, ben yook; forty barrels potatoes, Philadelphia; twenty-one crates of cukes, Yew Yerk; fourteen crates of cukes, Boston, one crate of tomatoes, Philadelphia; three crates of beans and one barrel of catbage, Gainesville, Ga. D. C. Ashley.

Griffin, May 23.—Two car losds of early peaches will leave Orchard Hill Tuesday or Wednesday next for the north. About one hundred hands were engaged by Judge Cunningh.—In togo and pick and pack the same to day. This really does not look so bad after the cry of cold and frost. Griffin and vicinity is "the boss" location for fruit and vegetables. The frost invariably goes below us.

QUITMAN, May 26.—Shipped this scason per express: 19th barrels potatoes, 12 crates potatoes, 29th barrels cabbage, 9 barrels turnips, 121 crates beans, 65 crates cukes, 7 crates radish, 6 crates beens, 8 crates squash. Eighty thousand pounds have passed through this office. Ecturus good with but it we exceptions. One man will get 100 barrels cabbage on little less than one acre. Respectivily,

Forr Gaines, Ga., May 28.—Truck shipments to-day; 2 crates squashes to Macon, 9 crates squashes bage on little less than one acre. Respectfully,

FORT GAINES, Ga., May 28.—Truck shipments today: 2 crates equashes to Macon, 9 crates squashes to Cincinnati, 17 crates onions to St. Louis.

Valdosta. May 25.—30 barrels of cabbage, New York; 27 barrels of potatoes, ealtimore; 4 crates of cukes, Baltimore; 38 barrels of potatoes, Philadelphia; 11 crates of cukes, Philadelphia; 11 crates of cukes, Philadelphia; 12 crates of cukes, Philadelphia; 13 crates of cukes, Philadelphia; 10 crates of cukes, Philadelphia; 10 crates cukes and beans, 5 crates potatoet—3.825 pounds. Express Acent.

CINCINNATI, May 28.—Potatoes, 82.50@3.50; beans, 125@4 50; onions $4 00@5 00 per barrel; tomatoes, $3.00@4 00; beets, $2.50@3.00; cukes, $2.50 per crate, 1t will not pay to ship by express; the rates are too high.

DILON, LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN, Ga., May 28.—The first shipment of the season, from this point, of gooseberries to Cincinnati was made by Mrs. J. W. Bryan, of Brampton Cilif. Price per stand $6 in Cincinnati.

From the Sumte. Republican TMr. Sam Glover, near Friendship, has given us a mess of fine onions of the potato or multiplying variety. They made about lifteen bushels on a piece of ground ten feet square. From the Hartwell Sun.

From the Hartwell Sun.

Mr. W. T. O. Cook, of Royston, writes us that he had snap-beans for dinner from his garden on the 2cd. has squash and cucumber blooms; and that a mad dog which had bitten several other dogs, was killed at that place on the 16th.

From the Camilla Clarion.

Our truck farmers have been shipping potatoes, beans and cucumbers. At this season it is best that the papers leave the buyers to find out what quantities are raised. It is a new business, and all have much to learn. We are satisfied that with prudence, patience and perseverance, there is money in it, and that no soil in Georda is better adapted to a variety farming than that of Nitchell county.

THE CONSTITUTION AND THE FARMERS. From the Valdosta Times.

Mr. Grady became thoroughly interested in the truck business during his visit to this section, and wi h characteristic enterprise THE CONSTITUTION now publishes daily quotations of the truck marke from the various large cities in the north and west, and also reports the shipments from the truck cen ters in south Georgia—amount and kind of truck shipped and where to. This is a movement in the shipped and where to. This is a movement in the right direction and will be of great value to our people. Arrangements have also been made by Mr. Grady to furnish Valdosta with these quotations by wire as soon as the melon market opens, and they will be posted on a bulletin board. These specials will come to the Times from The Constitution office, and our truck people will pay press rates on them—fifty cents for one hundred words. Mr. Grady's visit to this section will be of great use to our people.

A Social Organization for the dualness Men of Atlanta.

A number of gentlemen interested in the formation of a social club for the business men of Atlanta, met yesterday morning in the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

It was proposed that this club, while it is to be entirely distinct from the newly organized board of trade, should be in every important sense, subsidiary to the aims and purposes of that organization, In other words it is intended to supply the social feature, that a strict trade organization cannot start or control, and to put behind the board a club of influence and carnestness that will enlist the sympathy and support of all reputable classes of our people. It is intended that the membership will be largely the same, and the two bodies will likely find homes under the same roof.

It will be noticed that the membership is made up mainly of solid business men of the most conservative, habits. From this membership is made up the club will be, can be formed. It is proposed to make it a business organization, with no more of the oditions to end the club will be, can be formed. A TRIP TO MACON.

THE LIBRARY PICNIC TO THE

CENTRAL CITY

THE YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY ASSOCIATION of Atlanta, in getting up an excursion to a con, has taken the most popular step in the way of amusement ever gotten up here. The people here are not more anxious to go than are the people of Macon to receive them. The train will leave this city at an early hour, giving about seven hours in Macon, and returning home in seasonable time. This will give our people a chance to see one of the most beautiful cities of the state, besides the pleasure to be had from a visit to the far famed park. Details will be announced hereafter.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, AT 4 O'CLOCK P. M.

W EDNESDAY, JUNE 6, AT 4 O'CLOCK P. M.—
V I will sell upon the premises on Wednesday,
June 6th, at 4 o'clock p. m., thirteen lots on Pine, Munroe and Blackman streets. The lots are near the Gate City rallroad, on Jackson street, and in a part of the city rapidly enhancing in value. They formerly belonged to Crawford Munroe, but all liens have been paid, and the owner has a perfect title, and free from all encumbrances.
I will also sell the house place, fronting on Pine street, containing about one acre, with nice twostory residence, in good repair, and outbuildings.
The sale will be absolute. No foolishness. Free ride on Gate City cars. Everybody is invited to attend the sale and secure a nice lot before they are all taken, as everybody wants to, and will have a lot, for the reason that every one who buys a lot soon sells it for an advance.

NEW YORK, May 28 .- Speculation on the stock exchange to-day has been dull and weak. The general list opened about steady at Saturday's closing figures. After a slight decline in the early dealings the market, though dull, became firm, and shortly before 11 o'clock improved to the extent of per cent, led by Central Pacific, but during the next hour and a half the market was weak on a small volume of business. A decline ranging from 1/4 to 11/4 per cent took place, in which St. Paul, Central Pacific, and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy were conspicuous, while St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba dropped 2% per cent to 1193/s. From then to the close the market was featureless. There was a fractional rally in the early part of the afternoon, which was more than lost in the final dealings. Indiana. Bloomington and Western was an exception. selling up 1 per cent. The market closed weak at a decline on the day's transactions of 1/2 to 11/4 per cent, the latter for Chicago Bur ington and Quincy. Transactions aggregated 176,000 shares.

Transactions aggregated 17,000 marcs.

York, whither they went to carry the prisoners sentenced at the last term of court.

"What sort of a trip did you have," inquired a CONSTITUTION reporter of Mr. Perkle yesterday. "Under the circumstances, it was as pleasant as could have been expected," was the reply. "The prisoners all behaved nicely, and quietly submitted to the directions of myself and assistants. Robinson weakened considerably at first. That is to say he was, as the old saying, down in the mouth." The balance were cheerful; in fact, he become better spirited before reaching our destination."

"It was not definitely decided in what department they would be placed, before our departure. From he best information I could gather, I was lead to believe Mr. Brigland, the chtef manager of the penitentiary, would put the entire five to making shoes."
"There is but one consolation," remarked the scribe, "when they have served out their terms, they will have learned a trade, whereby they can make ear honest living."
"Not much" replied Mr. Perkle, "each one has a special part to do. One man's work may be the trimming of the heels, another the cutting of soles, and so on until the shoe is completed. By this plan of working, a prisoner learns how to do one thing and nothing more."
It is said the prisoners sent from here were allowed to take their choice of making shoes or stoves. The first occupation was enosen on account of the light work. Nothing has been heard from them since Mr. Perkle's return.

Real Estate Notes.
Some very high prices have recently been paid or suburban Atlanta real estate. Land beyond the treet car line in West End, two and a half miles rom the depot, brought $2,500 an acre. In Edgewood, three miles out, desirable land has sold as high as $2,000 an acre recently. Part of the Med ock property, two and a half miles from the center of the city, brought $2,000 an acre.
Among the livest men in Atlanta are the real state agents.*
Lumber and labor are said to be offered very Cheap now.

The new street car lines are backed by owners of real estate who want to place large lots of desirable property on the market.

A great many sales are being made on long time at 8 per cent inter.st.

Enterprising geutlemen are easting about in the surburbs for a suitable sile for the proposed race track and pleasure grounds.

Among the many recent purchases of real estate in Atlanta have been a good number of thrifty colored citizens.

The Broom Dril':

A literary entertainment and broom drill was given at Bethel church, on Wheat street, last night The programme was fairly carried out. The drilling of the broom brigade, under the command of Lieutenant Heury Hill, being especially good, After the entertainment, refreshments were served and the evening pleasantly spent by the large company in attendance.

Burning of Mr. John Ryan's Summer Realdence After the receipt of the telegram announcing the estruction of his summer residence near Clarkes ville yesterday, Mr. John Ryan left the city. The house is a large, fine ten room building, and was thoroughly and haudsomely furnished. It was used by Mr. Ryau as a summer residence. The house and furniture was worth $15,000, and was insured for $3,003.

The Gas War. Yesterday Judge Hammond rendered his decision in the gas war case. The decision was in favor of the Gate City Gaslight company. An order was is sued granting the injuction restraining the city from interfering with the new company in putting down its pipes as its charter allows it to do. The case will go to the supreme court.

PERSONAL.

Captain John Milledge has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at Oak land. Meriwether county, at their nanual school celebration and picnic, which occurs on the 11th of July. Colonel J. H. Martin, editor of the Rome Courier was in the city yesterday on a visit to his family.

The great popularity of Smith Extract of May Flower as a remedy for all diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys is confined to no particular locality. It is sold alike in Maine and California. It is indorsed and recommended by practicing physicians and thousands of grateful men, women and children in all parts of the United States. This great popularity has been gained by the cures it has affected. Bright's disease, that fearful scourge, is positively cured by the use of this remedy. None need suffer save those who refuse to be relieved. For all diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, no matter of what nature or how long standing, "Smith's Extract of May Flower" is a positive and effectual cure. Ask your druggist for it and refuse to take any substitute. If you are afflicted you cannot afford to be wasting time. Some valuable information concerning the nature and
